Rome, the capital of Italy, is the "Eternal City", home of some of the most famous and ancient architectural wonders such as the Coliseum, the Roman Forum and the Pantheon, some dating back over two thousand years. From Ancient Roman times to Medieval, Renaissance to Neoclassicism eras, influences can be seen in every corner of this buzzing city of over 2.7 million inhabitants.

NUSOD Site

- Angelicum, Pontifical University of Saint Thomas Aquinas

The meeting will take place at the Angelicum, Pontifical University of Saint Thomas Aquinas. The Pontifical University is heir of the mediaeval Studium founded by the Dominican Order, indeed by St. Thomas Aquinas himself, as well as of the College of St. Thomas, which Monsignor Juan Solano O.P., Bishop emeritus of Cuzco (Peru), established in 1577 at the Convent of Santa Maria sopra Minerva in Rome. The Angelicum is right in the city centre, within walking distance from the most beautiful monuments and attractions.

DIRECTIONS

The conference venue can be easily accessed by different means of transportation and plane:

Arriving by plane

Fiumicino Airport

The main international airport of Rome is the "Leonardo da Vinci" airport in Fiumicino, Connections to the city are available by train and by taxi.

From Fiumicino airport by train

- The direct train "Leonardo Express" to Roma Termini central station leaves every half an hour, from 6:06 in the morning to 23:00 in the evening (later there is a night bus every hour). The train trip takes 31 minutes.

-From Fiumicino airport by taxi

Public taxis are white, with a code and the sign of the city of Roma on the doors, and with a taximeter. From the Fiumicino airport to any place downtown (within the Aurelian city walls).

Ciampino Airport

The second international airport of Rome is in Ciampino, about 17 km south from downtown. From there, bus transfer to Roma Termini central station is handled by a private company or taxis.

Arriving by train

The central railway station is Roma Termini. Information on schedules, on-line reservation and tickets for any train connection from/to Roma Termini can be found at www.trenitalia.com. and it is connected by 64 or 40 bus line (5 stops, Nazionale/Quirinale Stop Bus)

From Roma Termini railway station to the conference sites

The Roma Termini railway station is a stop for both subway lines (Metro A and Metro B) and for many bus connections going everywhere in the city.

To reach the Angelicum University in Largo Angelico 1 from the Termini station, walk down Via Cavour for about 500 m, then turn to the right in Via Panisperna and proceed till the end (700 m). The walk takes about 15 minutes.

With public bus, take the line 40 in Piazza dei Cinquecento (every 5-10 minutes), direction Castel S. Angelo, get off after two stops at Nazionale/Quirinale, and walk 150 m to the conference site.
